

APTR2010 Southwest Regional Workshop

Partners for Health:
Communities and Researchers
Working Together

March 11th, 2010 ♦ 8:00 am - 5:00 pm

The Wong Kerlee International Conference Center

Purpose

This workshop will take an in-depth look at the Community-Based Participatory Research model (CBPR) as a means of producing social change to improve the lives of individuals and the health of the public. CBPR experts and community partners will lead the all-day workshop. Topics include an introduction to CBPR, ethical issues, building collaborations, and effective methods to produce sustainable results.

Keynote

- Using CBPR to impact significant social change
- The benefits and challenges to following the CBPR model

Breakout Sessions

- CBPR 101: Making it relevant
- Making the jump from community subjects to community partners: Developing collaborative relationships with communities
- Approaches to community engagement at all stages
- Ethical and legal issues with human subjects and community workers

Eligible for 3 seminar credits
in the School of Public Health

Hosted by:

LOMA LINDA UNIVERSITY
School of Public Health
Office of Public Health Practice

Co-Sponsors:

Community-Campus Partnerships for Health
Transforming Communities & Higher Education

LOMA LINDA UNIVERSITY
School of Medicine
Department of Preventive Medicine

Visit: www.lluophp.org/aptr or call (909) 558 8382 for registration or more information